Become a Schools Member of the RGS-IBG for only £80 a year and gain whole school access to www.geographyinthenews.rgs.org.

Geography in the News provides direct support for your KS3, GCSE, IB and A Level students through:

- A growing bank of 125+ topical in-depth case studies providing geographical interpretation to contemporary news issues.
- Monthly round ups of the key geographical stories that appear in print and online.
- Case studies linked to KS3, GCSE, IB and AS / A2.
- Access to selected academic research to enhance your subject knowledge.
- Interviews with leading geographical experts.
- Online lectures about key geographical issues including Chris Pattern on surviving the 21st century and Lord Stern on climate change.
- Teaching resources to accompany our 21st Century Challenges discussion series, focusing on the big geographical issues that will affect our future.

“The up-to-date case studies really help us and the new KS3 versions are a great idea. Our students going to university benefit from being stretched by the research articles and interviews.”

Simon Oakes a regular user of Geography in the News
