

● Complete list of case studies

- ...
- |    |   |   |
|----|---|---|
| 1  | A World in Sound   | Radio broadcasts about the lives of villagers and city dwellers in the Third World                        |
| 2  | Undergraduate Scheme in Applied Global Ethics                  | A new suite of interdisciplinary undergraduate programmes with an ethical approach                        |
| 3  | Coastal Zone Management Field Course to the Netherlands        | A collaborative field course with an overseas institution   |
| 4  | Establishment of a School of Applied Global Ethics             | A new School which is helping to develop an ethical culture and global perspectives across the university |
| 5  | Foundation Degree in Development Geography                     | A new programme combining academic and vocational approaches to development                               |
| 6  | Lancaster-Uyo Link Programme                                   | A collaboration between universities on governance, environment and development issues in the Niger Delta |
| 7  | Masters in Environment and Development with Overseas Placement | Postgraduate training in research into environment and development in the developing world                |
| 8  | Medicine in the Community – Community Placement Scheme         | Health and social care placements in the local region within multi-cultural communities                   |
| 9  | Money, Finance and Development                                 | A module for students to learn about economic issues in development                                       |
| 10 | Montserrat Field Course  | A Caribbean visit combining geographical study with research techniques training                          |
| 11 | North-South Linkages   | A module exploring interactions between the global North and South  |
| 12 | Reading History  | An opportunity for students to engage with accounts of history from beyond Europe                         |
| 13 | Region &amp; Environment Field Trip                            | A fieldtrip to Las Vegas and the Mojave Desert looking at natural and built environments                  |
| 14 | Semester Abroad at a developing country                        | An opportunity for students to learn developing country perspectives at first hand                        |
| 15 | Third World Urbanisation                                       | A module focussing on urban geography in the developing world   |
| 16 | Voluntary Action Overseas                                      | A university-run overseas volunteer programme   |
| 17 | West African Environment and Development Field Course          | An opportunity to study environment and development issues in Ghana and Nigeria                           |

18	The Companion to Development Studies	An interdisciplinary reference textbook providing a comprehensive overview of contemporary Development Studies
19	Identities in World History	An opportunity for students to think about history in different ways
20	Jean Monnet Europe &amp; the World Economy	A module on the European Economy and its global context
21	Geography in Practice: Gambia fieldtrip	A module which introduces students to a developing country
22	Global Doctors: Health and Development Special Study Module	An opportunity to learn about health in developing countries and to acquire some of the skills and knowledge needed to be doctors working in an increasingly globalised world.
23	Contemporary Economic Issues in Latin America	An opportunity for students to reflect on their year's internship in Latin America
24	Imperial China from a Gendered Perspective	An opportunity for students to engage with history from an alternative perspective
25	International Analysis and Competitiveness in Tourism, Travel and Hospitality	A multi-disciplinary approach to understanding internationalisation and globalisation in the context of tourism
26	Information and Communication Technologies for Development (ICT4D)	An exploration of different ways in which technology can be used for development
27	Global Environmental Change	Global environmental change from both physical and human perspectives
28	Global Transformations	An exploration of the economic, political, social and cultural processes of globalisation
29	Latin American Studies	An opportunity for language students to contextualise their learning and broaden their perspectives beyond Europe
30	Cross Cultural Capability in the Curriculum	An institution-wide strategic approach to introducing global perspectives and intercultural awareness across the university's provision
31	Practising Sustainable Development	An advanced-level exploration of the social economic, political and environmental aspects of sustainable development
32	Developing global perspectives across the institution	A strategy to embed global perspectives across the curriculum and ensure that the university addresses sustainable development
33	Planning for Research and Dissertation overseas	Challenging students about the practical and ethical issues of conducting research in a developing country
34	Sustainable supply chain management for tour operators	An interdisciplinary approach which applies concepts of sustainability from other disciplines to tourism
35	Encounters in World History	A thematic approach to exploring World History
36	Doing Development Dissertations	A workshop for students considering doing research on development
37	Development Economics	A module introducing development theory and issues to Economics students

38	Applied Urban Geography	A module looking at urban issues across the developed world
39	Development issues in the Postcolonial World	Enabling students to understand different perspectives on a development issue
40	Genocide Studies	A historical perspective of genocide and atrocities worldwide
41	Cultural Aspects of International Management	Encourages students to look at management issues in an international context
42	Participation &amp; Consultation	Examines the mechanisms for community participation and consultation within the context of political decision-making
43	The World of Economics	A comprehensive look at world-wide economic structures and issues
44	Professional Geology in Practice	The simulation of professional work in a culture different from the UK – Tunisia
45	Culture Studies of the Highlands and Islands	An interdisciplinary approach, exploring the tools and methods of the study of culture worldwide within an area-specific framework
46	Globalisation and Ethics in the Workplace	Exploring major contemporary global issues and the implications for ethical professional practice
47	Doing Development Research	A student-friendly reference guide and learning tool for anyone embarking on research and fieldwork overseas.
48	Global Strategic Issues in Hospitality and Tourism Management	Looks at the impact of the external international environment on hospitality, leisure, travel and tourism organisations
49	The Business of Restaurants	Looking at food and restaurant provision in the internationalised, continuously changing and innovative context of London
50	Environmental Management for Hotels, Resorts and Tourism Enterprises	Brings together issues of business ethics and environmental management in relation to hospitality and tourism operations
51	Pre Modern and Modern East Asia Lecture Series	Lectures by specialists to introduce East Asian civilization to undergraduates
52	Mock Climate Change Negotiations	An active-learning exercise in which students experience the process of making multi-national agreements
53	Civil Engineering with International Studies	Modules which develop globally-aware and sustainability-focussed civil engineers
54	Kenya Field Course	Experiencing geographical, developmental and environmental issues in an African context