

There is very little education and training available in the rural north.	Brasilia is the capital city. It is wealthy and there are lots of rich people living there.
The weather in the rural north is incredibly hot and dry making it difficult for crops to grow.	There are big hospitals with lots of medicine available in Brasilia.
Poor thin soils make farming extremely difficult in The Caatinga.	Your older brother moved to Brasilia last year and regularly sends back money that he earns.
There is no electricity in your village and you have no access to a computer.	There are lots of schools, colleges and universities in the city.
The only jobs that are available in rural north are in farming.	There are a range of jobs available in the city- all of which pay higher wages than those in The Caatinga.