

Homework activity

- (a) Describe the pattern of flows shown in 2010. (10 marks)
- (b) Using examples, suggest reason for the changes in exports to China shown between 2000 and 2010. (15 marks)

Classroom activity

Study the infographic and discuss the patterns and trends shown.

Exports from: 2000 2010

Oceania

Fastest growing trade flows:

50 million tonnes 250 million tonnes

- | | | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 North America to China: Soybeans, forestry products, coal, copper, cotton 2 South America to China: Copper, iron ore, soybeans, crude oil 3 Central & Northern Asia to MENA: Steel, wheat, sawn wood, coal 4 Sub-Saharan Africa to South Asia: Crude oil, coal and gold | 5 Sub-Saharan Africa to China: Crude oil, copper, non-ferrous and speciality metals, iron ore, coal 6 Central & Northern Asia to China: Crude oil, iron ore, coal, logs and sawn wood, non-ferrous metals 7 MENA to China: Crude oil 8 South Asia to China: Iron ore, cotton | 9 MENA to South Asia: Crude oil, refined petroleum, gold, LNG 10 South East Asia to South Asia: Palm oil, coal, refined petroleum 11 South East Asia to China: Metallurgical and thermal coal, refined petroleum, palm oil 12 Oceania to China: Iron ore, metallurgical coal, non-ferrous metals |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

