

Look at the sectors of industry in which Britain's top billionaires work

1. Lakshmi Mittal (steel) £19.3 billion
2. Roman Abramovich (oil and industry) £10.8 billion
3. The Duke of Westminster (property) £7 billion
4. Sri and Gopi Hinduja (industry and finance) £6.2 billion
5. David Khalili (art and property) £5.8 billion
6. Hans Rausing (packaging) £5.4 billion
7. Sir Philip and Lady Green (retailing) £4.9 billion
8. John Fredriksen (shipping) £3.5 billion
9. David and Simon Reuben (metals and property) £3.5 billion
10. Jim Ratcliffe (chemicals) £3.3 billion.

Total Value of the UK economy is around £1 trillion

Look at the pie chart below. It shows the contributions that the different sectors of industry make to national wealth as a whole.

Compare the contributions that the different sectors of industry make to national wealth as a whole with those of the sectors of UK billionaires – do they fit?